Private Foundation Awards Major Grant to La Salle University's Speech-Language-Hearing Science Program

A local charitable foundation has awarded La Salle University's Speech-Language-Hearing Science (SLHS) program a three-year grant of approximately $300,000 to educate speech-language pathology graduate students to work with the region's oral-deaf community and to establish a link between the University and the Clarke Pennsylvania Auditory/Oral Center in Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania.

"Few programs in speech-language pathology in the nation and none in this area educate speech-language pathology students specifically to care for the needs of the oral-deaf community," says Dr. Barbara Amster, Director of La Salle's SLHS program.

The grant will be used to provide partial scholarships for SLHS students; fund a full-time faculty member who will have a joint appointment at the Clarke Pennsylvania Auditory/Oral Center and La Salle; provide teaching and laboratory equipment; design and implement a course to educate students on meeting the needs of the oral-deaf community; and transform existing undergraduate speech-language-hearing science courses into a web-based, distributive learning format.

One aim of the grant is to educate more Speech-Language Pathology students on how to facilitate speech in deaf individuals using a process called the auditory-oral approach. "It's a wonderful method, but speech-language pathologists usually aren't trained in this technique, so we want to increase the number of persons who can serve the needs of the oral-deaf community," says Amster. "Given the appropriate educational opportunities, speech-language pathologists who are trained in the auditory-oral method can make a huge difference in the speech communication capabilities of oral-deaf people."

La Salle's SLHS program combines academic course work and clinical experiences. Affiliations with many local hospitals, clinics, schools, and rehabilitation facilities enrich the clinical experiences of the students. The master's degree is available for individuals who hold a bachelor's degree in speech-language-hearing science or a related field. The University also offers a five-year undergraduate to graduate program for undergraduates who decide early in their studies that speech-language pathology is the career for them. This program leads to a master's degree in speech-language pathology and combines liberal arts and science courses with clinical courses and professional experiences. It is specifically designed to provide a strong, diverse yet specialized program of study. ###

It is our duty to thank and to praise in song and prayer, to glorify the Holy One who performed all these wonders for our ancestors and for us. We were brought out from slavery to freedom, from anguish to joy, from sorrow to festivity, from darkness to great light. Let us therefore sing a new song.

Praise the Eternal!

The Festival of Passover begins at sunset on Monday, April 5th.

The Easter Triduum begins on Thursday evening, April 8th.

If we have died with Christ, we believe that we are also to live with him. We know that Christ, once raised from the dead, will never die again; death has no more power over him. His death was death to sin, once for all; his life is life for God. In the same way, you must consider yourselves dead to sin but alive for God in Christ Jesus.

Best wishes to all Jewish and Christian members of the University Community on these most happy of feasts.

ENRICH YOUR BLOOD WITH IRON

Here are some tips for increasing iron levels in your blood:

- ◆ Eat iron-rich foods like red beef, liver, pork, veal, raw oysters, raw clams, shrimp, sardines
 - ◆ Soybeans, dried beans, peas, lentils, and tofu.
 - ◆ Baked potatoes with skin, collard & mustard greens.
- ◆ Whole grain breads and cereals, especially oatmeal, Cheerios and Total.
 - ◆ Dried apricots and pumpkin seeds
- ◆ Eat vitamin C rich foods to increase the amount of iron absorbed by the body (Orange Juice, tomatoes, peppers)
 - ◆ Combine iron-rich meats with iron-rich vegetables
- ◆ Avoid drinking coffee, Coke/Pepsi, and chocolate at the same time as this decreases the amount of iron that is absorbed.
- ◆ Increase your fluids in general for a few days before donating blood.
